SWARTHOUT JUGGLES GRIZZLY LINEUP;
TIPS HOPE TO REBOUND THIS WEEK

MISSOULA---

Still smarting from a 21-0 licking at the hands of South Dakota one week ago, but high for a comeback victory this weekend, the University of Montana will sport some new faces in both its offensive and defensive lineups against Portland State College Saturday.

Game time for the Grizzly home opener at the new Dornblaser Stadium is 1:32 p.m.

After viewing films of the South Dakota loss and those of a Wednesday scrimmage session, Coach Jack Swarthout and his assistants have made several changes they hope will provide a winning combination capable of picking up more offensive thrust while still holding down the opposition.

Most noticeable among the new faces are three sophomores, two of whom will start on defense. John Waxham of Mountlake Terrace, Wash. and Pat Schruth of Billings will open in the Grizzly defensive secondary, while Joe Lyons of Kalispell will get his first starting chance at offensive strong guard.

Other new starters will include Ray Brum, Honolulu, Hawaii junior, at quarterback; Tony Gabriel, South River, N.J. junior, at fullback; Dave Urie, Chico, Calif. junior, at center; Tom Lavery, Chicago, Ill. junior, at quick guard, and Doug Bain, Kalispell junior, at slot-back.

In the backfield will be quarterback Brum; tailback Roy Robinson, Glasgow junior; slot-back Bain, and fullback Gabriel.

Portland State, 0-2 for the season after losing to Idaho State, 52-30, and Montana State, 17-6, sustained a big loss against Montana State when record-setting, pro-bound quarterback Ed Gorman sustained a serious shoulder injury that will keep him out of action for at least six weeks.

The Vikings are primarily a passing team, although with Gorman, one of the top passers in the nation last year, out with his injury, Coach Read may call more and more on his running game.

Swarthout would like to stick with the ground attack, using the pass primarily to open things up for his runners.
